Technical View – NIFTY (25,732.30)

NIFTY [N59901] 25732.30, -0.22%

Price Avg(E,20) Avg(E,50)

Observations

- On the 13th, NIFTY50 started trading at 25,897.35, marking a high of 25,732.30. The index fell 0.22% down to close trading at 25,732.30. The index failed to sustain Monday's upside as optimism in India-US trade deal wore off while Trump's new tariff related threats regarding extra 25% tariff on countries doing business with Iran and FIIs persistent outflows both weighed negatively on market sentiment assisting in profit booking with selling pressure peaking in consumer durables and realty sector. Trent emerged as the top loser falling sharply following the release of their Q3FY26 results few days prior.
- On the daily frame, NIFTY50 depicted a long bodied bearish candle with long lower shadow and no upper shadow signifying buying interest at lower levels. The index continues to close below the 20,50-day EMA and the Middle Bollinger Band while trading above the longer 100 and 200-day EMAs. RSI fell slightly to 41.16 from 42.84 while the reference line moves above it. MACD histogram weekend further as the MACD line also stayed below the Signal line. In conclusion, the indicators signal significant bearishness present in the index.
- Looking at the levels, it appears that 26155 is performing as a significant resistance level for the Nifty. On the higher side, though, 25893/25928/26042 levels will act as a resistance area for the NIFTY. If we look at the lower side, support is located at 25597/25562/25449 and 25335 levels.

BANKNIFTY [N59906] 59578.80, 0.22%
 Price Avg(E,20) Avg(E,50)

Observations

- Tuesday saw BANKNIFTY opening at 59,767.55, noting a high of 59,767.55 and a low of 59,312.05. The index stopped trading at 59,578.80, going up by 0.22%. BANKNIFTY managed to extend their gains for another day as earnings in the index were majorly supported by gains in PSU Banks. Trading volume however continues to dwindle indicating caution amongst the investors to engage amid rising geopolitical tensions.
- The BANKNIFTY paralleled the NIFTY50 index and formed a long bodied bearish candle with long lower shadow and no upper shadow. The index which was trading above the 50, 100, 200-day EMAs and the Middle Bollinger Band, has now managed to climb above the 20-day EMA as well. RSI rose to 53.53 yet trades below the reference line. MACD histogram shifted has expanded further from -32.78 to -37.57 as MACD line stays below the Signal line. Collectively, buying interest at lower levels and the price trading comfortably above the major EMAs highlight positive bias in the index but the momentum indicators are yet to confirm the same as they remain bearish in nature.
- Collectively, these factors reinforce a constructive outlook for the index in the near term. Looking at the levels, it appears that 59781 is performing as a significant resistance level for the Nifty. On the higher side, though, 59834/60008/60182 levels will act as a resistance area for the NIFTY. If we look at the lower side, support is located at 59325/59271/59097 and 58923 levels.
